Young Man, Beware of your Appearance

With style such a factor in the estimation of the young women you meet socially, at home and in business, you must also give attention to style in your own clothes, for if you are not up-to-date in this respect the fact will be noticed and cause comment.

Here is a store which you'll find to be making special efforts to provide you with distinctive styles, and prepared to show you a large and varied assortment of effects exclusively appropriate for wear by you of the younger generation.

These are the noted Benjamin Washington Co. and Alco make of clothes produced under ideal working conditions and in our opinion the best, most satisfactory wearing and most stylish suits it is possible for you to obtain at prices ranging from $10 to $25.

Come in and let us personally continue to tell you about the exceptional merits of our clothes which you are bound to find wear so very desirable for your own wear.

ST. PATRICK

St. Patrick, the titular saint of Ireland, was born on March 17th, 372, and died in the year 493, according to many eminent authorities. There has been some discussion pertaining to the years of his birth and death, some claiming he was born in 387, and that he died in 495. He was born at Kilkenny near Dunbarton. His baptismal name was "Gaucath" (valor in war), changed by his uncle, to whom he was sold as a slave, into "Otharig" (four masters, the number to which he had been sold). Pope Celestine changed the name to Patrickus when he sent him to convert the Irish. Certainly the most marvellous of all saints.

tales ascribed to the saints is that accorded to St. Patrick. "He swam across the Shannon with his head in his mouth!" St. Patrick cleared Ireland of serpents. One old serpent resisted, but St. Patrick overcame it by cunning. He made a box and invited the serpent to enter in. The serpent insisted it was too small, and so high the contentment grew that the serpent got into one box to prove that he was right, whereupon St. Patrick slammed down the lid and cast the box into the sea.

GREAT COUNCIL OF S. C. RED MEN

Annual Meeting Will be Held at Rock Hill, Tuesday, April 4.

Many residents of Anderson and nearby cities expected to attend the annual meeting of the Great Council of Red Men for South Carolina, to be held at Rock Hill Tuesday, April 4. Col. E. H. Aull of Newberry is Great Sachem of the Great Council of the state and has taken an active part in arranging for the Rock Hill meeting.

Among the leading Red Men of the state are included Gov. Cole L. Blease, who is a past Great Sachem and is now a representative to the Great Council of the United States. It is expected that the governor will attend the Rock Hill meeting.

Other Great Council representatives include Dr. J. P. Carlisle of Greenville, Otto Klettsner of Newberry and James G. Leake of Union. All have been active in the work of the organization and have added materially in the upbuilding of the order in the state.

Mr. Klettsner has also been active in organizing degrees of Pocahontas, and a large number of ladies have become associated with the organization as a result of his efforts.

Hon. O. D. Gray of Williamston is great sachem.

Mr. Clarence R. Tolly of this city is one of the representatives of the Great Council of United States.

It is probable that some of the leading Red Men of South Carolina will attend the meeting of the great council for North Carolina, which will be held at Charlotte on May 20, the anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration.

In discussing the work of the Red Men in South Carolina, Great Sachem Aull said:

"While the organization has shown no marvelous growth in this state, the men have held their own and are now on a good basis. We are showing a steady and substantial increase."

BUSY BEE CAFE

The Moonlight School.

Spartanburg, March 12.—Probably one of the greatest features of the approaching meeting of the State Teachers Association in this city will be the address of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, superintendent of Rowan County, Kentucky, whose subject will be "The Moonlight School."

Mrs. Stewart is widely known over the south as an institute instructor and lecturer but this will be her first appearance in South Carolina. A delegation of South Carolina teachers heard her address before the educational convention in Richmond the first of the month and were so charmed that they immediately arranged for her to address the South Carolina teachers.

Mrs. Stewart is the woman who drove a litter out of the Rowan County, Kentucky. This was accomplished by means of night schools. At first some of these schools were taught in the moonlight. In her address Mrs.

Stewart will tell of the wonderful success of these night schools and will relate most interesting incidents in connection with them.

It is safe to say that no one who hears Mrs. Stewart will be disappointed. Those who heard her at Richmond declared that she was the best feature on the program.

All arrangements have been completed for the entertainment of the teachers, locally and the meeting is expected to be the largest attended and most profitable ever held.

Reduced rates have been granted by all of the railroads and two days' holiday have been given the teachers that they might attend.

Mrs. Julia Maxwell of Wallingford was in the city yesterday shopping.
